

Who is a non-resident?

A non-resident means a person who is not born in South Africa (i.e. a natural person or legal entity) whose normal place of residence, domicile or registration is outside the common monetary area (CMA), i.e. Namibia, Lesotho, Swaziland or South Africa.

What is a non-resident account?

This is an account opened with an authorised dealer (bank) in South Africa by a non-resident (i.e. a natural person or legal entity). A non-resident individual does not hold a South African passport nor a South African identity document and a non-resident entity is not registered in the Republic of South Africa.

What is the duty of an authorised dealer over non-resident accounts?

Rand accounts opened by non-residents must be designated and conducted as non-resident accounts.

Authorised dealers are requested to exercise extreme care over deposits to non-resident accounts. Such accounts must be kept separately under the supervision of a responsible officer conversant with the principles of exchange control and the provisions of the rulings.

Non-resident accounts may not be overdrawn without the permission of the Financial Surveillance Department of the South African Reserve Bank. Applications for overdrafts and credit card limits greater than R20 000 can be applied for via the banks Financial Surveillance (Exchange control) Department.

All transactions require prior approval from the Financial Surveillance Department.
